Does my pet need Health & Wellness Products?

Health & Wellness products for pets are equivalent to home furnishings and tableware for their owners! People tend to choose their furnishings and tableware because of their appearance but this is not a concern shared by pets.

PetSafe® design products for pets that fulfil a need, the process will involve not only engineers and designers but also animal behaviourists and veterinary surgeons. Behaviourists and vets understand how animals think and function so both are integral to the process of producing products which will enhance their quality of life.

We like to think that owners will find our products attractive but our primary aim is to ensure your pet's quality of life is improved when they use our Health & Wellness products.

“Every pet needs to eat and drink”

Why should I use a Health & Wellness product?

Our Health & Wellness products are diverse but all fulfil roles in your pet's everyday routines. Every pet needs to eat and drink. Health & Wellness products provide innovative alternatives which will enhance your pet's experience.

PetSafe Health & Wellness products include timed and digital pet feeders which promote your pets feeding experience. The Drinkwell® range of pet fountains encourage pets to drink fresh drinking water that's so vital to their health.

Feeding systems

Feeding systems provide pets with regular small meals of either dry biscuit or tinned food. This is how cats and smaller dogs would choose to eat, little and often. Some pets with stomach problems benefit from having their food in small regular portions. The timing of the delivery of the meals can be predetermined, thus make feeding systems ideal for dispensing medication at set times when the owner is not at home. All of our Pet Feeders have dishwasher safe feeding trays for owner convenience and hygiene.

Feeding systems should not be used to facilitate leaving pets unattended for extended periods.

The 5 Meal Pet Feeder is a battery operated rotary system. The circular five portion tray has a cover with an opening over one of the portions. The tray can be programmed to rotate so that fresh portions of food can be accessed at set times up to 5 times a day.

The 2 Meal Pet Feeder is a battery operated 'lid lifting' system. Each of the two trays has a separate lid which can be programmed to lift revealing food at a set time up to 48 hours in advance.

Pet Fountains

Pet Fountains encourage pets to drink more. This is always of particular benefit to cats, who can be fussy drinkers, but is also very beneficial to dogs, particularly when they are unwell.

Cat's drinking water should be as similar to a babbling brook as possible. They prefer their food and water to be separated by half a room because unlike dogs they never normally eat and drink at the same time. If cats become unwell and moving between their food and water is a problem then they can be moved closer together.

Drinkwell® Pet Fountains have charcoal water filters which remove any chemical smells or taints. The patented 'free falling' stream of water is particularly appealing and encourages pets to drink.

The flow of the water can be simply adjusted to suit individual pets and the submersible water pumps are almost silent.

Hydration is important for all pets but it is particularly important when they are unwell. Maintaining hydration in pets with any degree of chronic kidney disease is an important goal. Pets with cystitis benefit from increased water intake too.
